Assessment strategy	Weight,%	Assessment criteria
Test I (Part I - beginning of April)	40%	Structure and grading. Test I will cover the topics studied from February through April, while Test II will focus on the topics covered from April through May. Both tests consist of two parts (theoretical and practical) of equal weight. Although the number of tasks varies within each part, both parts contribute 50 points, making the total score for each test 100 points.
Test II (Part II - May 29)	40%	Content. The theoretical parts of both tests check students' ability to define, compare, contrast, describe, analyze, and illustrate relevant concepts. The practical parts require students to apply the theory in practice: for example, to construct correct grammatical structures and forms, to correct linguistic mistakes, to rephrase, to insert missing or required forms into given syntactic structures.
Active participation in discussions	20% 10% (Part I) + 10% (Part II)	Assessment criteria. The maximum number of points is given for an exhaustive and comprehensive answer that demonstrates the student's ability to discuss various theoretical aspects covered in the course using correct grammatical terminology, to illustrate their arguments with relevant examples, to construct and use grammatically accurate English sentences.
		Requirements for passing the course. Students are required to attend a minimum of 70 percent of classes in either part of the course (Part I; Part II). Failure to meet the 70 percent seminar attendance requirement will result in the student being ineligible to sit for the exam. To pass the course, students must successfully pass both tests. If a student passes one test but fails the other, only the failed test must be retaken during the retake session in September. If a student fails to pass both tests, they will have the opportunity to retake both during the retake session.
		A student who misses any of the tests (Test I/Test II) without a valid excuse (e.g. illness) is not allowed to make up for the assignment. In the case of an illness, a student has the opportunity to take Test I and/or Test II in two weeks after the end of an illness. Each student is responsible for notifying the lecturer of the justifiable reason for the absence and a retake is scheduled via mutual agreement.
		Additional remarks:
		The lecturer reserves the right to change homework assignments, the sequence of seminar topics and the dates of seminars outlined in the course syllabus during the first seminar in order to manage students' workload, make up for missed seminars or topics that were not covered due to student's poor preparation for seminars, etc. The lecturer reserves the right not to share slides and other materials used during the seminar. If a student is not able to attend a seminar, it is his/her responsibility to cover the topic individually. Students take full responsibility for their learning process and must refrain from asking questions, making comments or asking for individual feedback on their assignments if it becomes obvious that a lack of knowledge arises from students' unjustified absence. All comments in the classroom should only be confined to the materials being discussed. Students are required to regularly check their institutional emails and refer to the course on emokymai.vu.lt for the latest updates regarding the course.

Course policy regarding the use of electronic devices in class
The usage of electronic devices (laptops, tablets, cell phones, smartphones, e-readers, music players, etc.) during class is only allowed for study and research purposes, when it is required for in-class assignments (assigned by the course instructor), for contacting group members (when such need arises), or in cases of emergency. Mobile phones should be silenced and put away during the entire seminar, unless they are used for above-mentioned learning purposes and prior permission to use them from the course instructor is granted. If a student has an emergency situation which requires to keep his/her phone on, he/she must inform the course instructor beforehand. Taking photos, videos and making sound recordings in class are forbidden, unless instructed otherwise by the professor or unless students provide documents which outline the requirements for necessary accommodations of the use of electronic devices due to disability or other diagnosed health issues.
